Katy Fackler, Senior Client Associate
Blanchet House 2021 Service Honoree

As part of what we do at Anderson Wealth Management Group of Wells Fargo, our employees are given time to choose to help out regularly in a variety of local charities. For several years, Katy Fackler has been volunteering with Blanchet House, a local nonprofit that provides meals and housing to those in need.

As you may know, Katy is an active beekeeping and has been working with a program at Oregon State University to become a master beekeeper. One day, she discussed with the director of Blanchet House the therapeutic benefits of beekeeping. This has been a part of a treatment plan for veterans suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) since World War 1. Several months later, she was putting on her white suit, zipping up her netting and diving in, teaching four young men at a farm the nonprofit runs, how to set up and care for their hives. The men are recovering from addiction and learning new skills. Being on a farm and caring for animals is a key part in helping them make a fresh start.

We are proud of Katy and all the efforts of our team to make our community a better one. Please join us in congratulating Katy for the well-deserved recognition in receiving the Blanchet House's Service Honoree Award.

You can watch the award ceremony Sunday, March 7 at this link:
